ROBBINS IN FORSYTH.

He Makes a Masterly Address on the Political Issues.

(Special Cor. of STATE CHRONICLE.)

KERNERSVILLE, Oct. 19. - We had the pleasure to-day of hearing the Hon. W. M. Robbins of Statesville, on the political issues of the day; and would to God that every fair minded man - both white and colored the State over-could have heard him.

He took up the Republican party and skinned it from the Sheriff of Forsyth | veniences-all of which will go to make | dragged from the store into the road by county to the President of the United up the traveler's ideal of a pleasant and the five men. Here he was felled to the States. He discussed the accounts of the Republican party, clearly showing to any unbiased mind that it is purely a sectional party, and that it's legislation has been of benefit to the North and directly against the South. And yet, white men in North Carolina will still vote the Republican ticket. When he got on the Force bill, he said if that bill was passed and became a law some would have to die or we would Two Thousand People Hear a Great lose our liberty. He said that the result of the law would be turmoil, confusien, massacre, bloodshed, or else we would have to submit to the grossest wrongs, the gravest injustices.

He urged everybody to vote and vote the Democratic ticket and thereby show to the people of the North that we are unanimously opposed to such legislation. He further stated that there had not been a Republican President elected since the war who was not opposed by a large majority of the white votes in the United States, yet the negro vote has been sufficient to turn the scales.

We expect to carry Forsyth Democratic this year if possible. We expect to elect by a handsome majority, both Williams and Barber, and we will, if Democrats will only rally to our standard and do their full duty. More Sheriff Garden came in sight just as Capt. Mills was dragged into the road, and saw the assault by the five men, but did not get up in time to rescue Capt, Mills until he had been almost killed. Our informant says that fears are entertained for Capt. Mills' recovery, as he was terribly bruised about the head and it is feared that he suffered internal injuries. It seems that the whole affair was a conspiracy to kill Capt. Mills, who is one of the most prominent and influential Democra's in this section, and to prevent his fulfilling his appointment to speak at Dysartsville.

The greatest excitement and indigna atrocity, and no effort will be spared to punish the perpetrators. This is infamy unparalleled. CAPT. MILLS is a prominent citizen and has often represented Burke county in the Legislature. As the people of the State read of this, their indignation will know no bounds. It is an evidence of the ends to which Radical office seekers will resort in their extremities to prevent de feat. CAPT. MILLS is a true Democrat, and the infamous attack on him ought to fire every honest heart and cause all men who love their State to help bury the Radical party beyond the hope of resurrection. - EDITOR ]

WM. T. TANNAHILL COMMITS SUICIDE.

He Shoots Himself at His Home in Englewood.

[By United Press.]

New York, Ort. 30. - Wm. T. Tannahill, a former director of the cotton exchange, committed suicide by shooting himself last night at his home in Engle wood. Mr. Tannahill was 60 years cld. In 1871 he became the head of the firm of Robert Tannahill & Son. He was a dashing operator and always kept on the safe side of the market. Mr. Tannahill was very popular with his fellow brokers in the cotton exchange. He was a widower without children. He lived with a sister-in-law who had an interest in the business.

Mr. Tannahill retired to his room early last evening, and about 11 o'clock the family were startled by the report of aviary, 1,200 performers, an army of a pistol. When assistance had been employees, and, in fact, everything that summoned and the door of his room opened, (for he had locked it securely) Impre Kiralfy's "Nero, or the Destruc-Mr. Tannahili's dead body was found tion of Rome," undoubtedly the most stretched upon the floor.

The bullet had crushed through the skull, causing instant death. Apparently there was not the slightest cause for the suicide, for he, as far as his friends and family know, had had no business troubles and his affairs were in a prosperous condition.

It is believed that he committed the act while suffering from temporal insanity. His health has been poor for some time past, and he has suffered much from nervous troubles, although his con dition has never caused his friends any anxiety.

Aside from this there appears to be an entire absence of motive for the act.

A Bill to Compensate Members For Services -- It Will Be a God Send to Irish Members.

[By United Press.]

LONDON, Nov. 3,-Mr. Charles Fen wick, the Gladstonian member of Parliament for the Wausbok division of Northumberland, has prepared a bill which he will introduce in the House of Commons as early as possible after the reassembling of Parliament, providing for the payment to the members of the House an annual salary of 300 pounds. A bill of this kind has been often suggested, but never hitherto looked upon tion has been aroused by this Radical with any great degree of favor by commone's for various reasons, chief among them being the belief of the Squierarchy that the honor of membership is sufficient compensation for the duties performed, and the knowledge of the same gentry that the attachment of a salary to a parliamentary seat would be a God send to most of the Irish members; and therefore tantamount to supplying the enemy with ammunition. The exactions of a parliamentary career, however, have told heavily upon the purses of many of the former opponents of the proposition, and Mr. Fenwick is now assured that a large number of members will support the bill, and it is not unlikely that the sum proposed as annual compensation may be increased in spite of the gratification which its payment would afford the Home Rulers.

THE LARKIN SMITH CASE.

The Protracted Trial Probably Drawing to an End.

The Larkin Smith case which has gained considerable local notoriety has been occupying the attention of Wake county civil court for two days past, and may consume the remainder of the week.

The case arises from proceedings DE LUNATICO INQUIRENDO. Some years ago Mr. Larkin Smith gave to one of his sons the power of attorney to administer on his estate. Not long after this Mr. Smith came to town, and while here he revoked the power of attorney granted to his son, and granted said power to his attorneys here. The son to whom the first power of attorney was granted brought proceedings of inquiry as to the saneness of his father at the time he gave his attorneys the power of attorney, and this has been the issue for some years. The case was begun in the Superior court. From there it went to the Supreme court and was sent back by that body to the court below, where it is now being tried. Young Mr. Smith seeks to establish his right as power of attorney over the estate by proving his father's lunacy and mental irresponsibility at the time he revoked that power from his son and transferred it to his at-
